Historic Memoranda

of the First Presbyterian Church in Toronto, now Knox Church 169 years - 1820 - 1989

- 1874 - The Basis of Union for the "Presbyterian Church in Canada," as proposed, was approved by the Congregation.
- 1881 - Building opened in December after remodelling the interior. An organ was introduced.
- 1905 - Last services in the old church before demolition, July 9th. New School House on Spadina Avenue, commenced November 5th.

Knox Church ...

"I thank my God everytime I remember you."
Phil. 1:3

Paul's words to the Philippians have, to a large degree, been the motivation for the completion of this photo directory. This directory will serve as more than just a "remembrance" but will also serve as a constant reminder of those with whom we presently worship. Further, we firmly believe that this directory will enhance and encourage fellowship among the community at Knox Church. Efforts have been made to include all those who call Knox their church home. Certainly, because of scheduling not suited to all, this is not a complete list.

However, as will be evident, the directory includes the majority of active members and adherents. It must be noted that the roster of addresses and phone numbers at the back of the directory is not a membership list, but of those who consented to have their names and addresses included.

We wish to thank the session of Knox Church for their approval and encouragement in the development of this photo directory. Further, we especially want to thank all those who willingly participated in making this project a success.
